Edwards Farm Preserve:

Through the generous support of over 250 donors and the Town of Southold, this five-acre farm field and 15.9 acres of wetland and woodland habitat is preserved for future generations. The Peconic Land Trust is grateful to the community for its support of local food production and natural lands conservation.

Townsend Memorial Overlook:

You are invited to walk through and observe the farming operation. When exiting at the southern end, you will enter the Townsend Memorial Overlook at Edwards Farm. Overlooking Little Bay and Orient Beach State Park, the memorial is in honor of Joseph L. Townsend, Jr. Joe was a champion of conservation across Long Island, a former board member of the Trust, and Mayor of Greenport, among many other contributions to the community.

Please take care when visiting the preserve and memorial. Make sure the gates are firmly closed behind you, and be considerate of the farming equipment, produce, and wildlife.

We are so grateful to you for your support and appreciation of conservation. Thank you!
